PROBLEM STATEMENT:

To create an e-commerce website that is easy-to-understand, easy-to-use, and managed by new users. The data within the application should be free from redundancy and any anomalies. The data should also be organized in tables, in their designated entities, and should be accessible to the admin.

ERD:

PAGES & THEIR DESCRIPTION:

There is a total of 14 pages; divided among customer, vendor, and admin.
